

Meher M. Noshirwani (Founder, Treasurer)

Meher Noshirwani has an M.A. in Sociology from the University of Essex, United Kingdom. As a sociologist she has worked in the field of women, development and environment since 1985. She is currently working as a Consultant and Researcher on Gender and Environment issues, and is the Regional Vice Chair for Asia, and Chair of the Specialist Group on Gender (SGG) of the Commission on Environmental, Economic, and Social Policy (CEESP) of IUCN. She is also the Technical Advisor to the Trust for Conservation of Coastal Resources (TCCR), a member of IUCN, managing and implementing projects on gender, environment and climate change in the coastal areas of the fishing communities along the Sindh coast in Pakistan. With many years of experience of working on gender and environment issues, first with Shirkat Gah (a women's NGO) and currently with TCCR, she has developed projects and programmes on the theme of gender, livelihoods, and sustainable development. She is also a Board Member of Hisaar Foundation, a Foundation for Water, Food and Livelihood Security.